SERGEANT JACK KERR
TELLS OF BIG BATTLE

Anti-aircraft guns paved the way for the breakthrough at Falaise. Beginning at 11:30 at night and lasting until six the next morning, the tracer shells blazed the borders of de-mined areas with their streaks of leaping flame, while trundling tanks ploughed through the darkness just behind. This was a novel type of co-operative effort which was later to be pressed into service a number of times as the weeks went by.

Firing one of these guns, which are capable of a maximum of 120 shells a minute, was Sergt. J. S. Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kerr, of 416 6th Avenue South, Lethbridge. He is now home on leave, visiting with his wife and daughter, who reside with his parents.

Landing with the Second Division a few days before July 6th, 1944, the ack-ack crews had been quickly moved up to Caen, and while the enemy planes were conspicuous in the sky, the batteries had done "plenty of damage." But that had not been for long as the Allied air fleets soon obtained supremacy.

Then followed an eventful period with the Canadian army, which lasted until he took leave of it at Poperinghe. Meanwhile, he spent a few days at Dieppe. This time he viewed the town from the flank and the rear as well as from the inside. Two years before he had seen it from the sea on a landing barge in the English Channel. He well understood the difficult assignment the landing forces had been faced with on that occasion. Steep cliffs honeycombed with guns and pillboxes; machine guns that commanded sea walls and foothills of all kinds hidden in the sand.

Recounting the Dieppe action, Sergt. Kerr said, "I played an ack-ack role. But I didn't leave the barge. The South Saskatchewan and the Cameron Highlanders were attacking in front of us. Wrecked boats were everywhere, but from where we were, 400 yards out, not very much could be seen. It looked like an impossible task to me. Our barge helped to rescue the wounded and take them back to England."

His experience with automatic predictors was not very happy, he said. They were all the time getting out of kilter. He found the tracers and the ordinary methods of observation far more accurate in directing anti-aircraft fire, he said.

Enlisting from Lethbridge with the 17th Light Anti-Aircraft Battery in September of 1944, he landed in Britain four months later. There he was instructed in the operation of the Bofors gun with the air defence units, and played a vital role in the air defence of Great Britain.

Paris is the third largest city in Europe, being exceeded only in size by London and Berlin.

The only thing wrong with our democratic system is poor circulation of the unselfish spirit.

H. H. Fitzsimmons, assistant superintendent of the CPR at Medicine Hat since November of 1943, is retiring owing to ill health, to be succeeded by C. H. Harvey, road foreman of engines at Calgary.

Illness is closing out a railroad career extending over 41 years for Mr. Fitzsimmons, who joined the CPR as a fuel inspector on the Algoma district in northern Ontario in 1904, working his way westward to the foothills of the Rockies. He worked as trainman, later conductor, at Cranbrook, Lethbridge and Calgary from 1907 onwards; served as yardmaster at Frank, Lethbridge and Cranbrook, and was appointed rule examiner for the Alberta district in November of 1943, with headquarters in Calgary.

Harvey started as a wiper at Calgary in 1915, later was fireman and engineer on the Alberta district, and became road foreman of engines for Calgary-Lethbridge divisions in May of 1942.

J. B. Wilson's term of office as Royal Bank manager terminated yesterday, May 31st, and his successor, M. G. Smith, assumed the new post this morning. Mr. Smith is quite well known throughout Southern Alberta.

On Sunday, May 27th, the Rev. Joseph LeFort, recently ordained in Medicine Hat, celebrated a solemn high mass in St. Cyril's church at Bellevue.

Father LeFort entered the church in solemn procession, preceded by altar boys and attended by Rev. Dean Harrington, of Blairmore, as deacon, and Rev. Father L. Sullivan, of Coleman, as subdeacon. Mr. Rudy Sarich, of Hillcrest, was master of ceremonies.

As the procession entered the main door the choir sang "Ecce Sacerdos," composed by Rev. J. E. Ronin, professor of sacred chant at St. Augustine's Seminary, Toronto, of which institution Father LeFort is a graduate.

Very Rev. Dean Harrington preached a most inspiring sermon on the priesthood and stressed the need for vocations, and urged both young men and young women to seriously consider devoting themselves to God's service in the priesthood and religious life in answer to God's call.

A capacity congregation overflowed the church, and all parishes of the district were well represented. Coleman, Blairmore, Bellevue and Hillcrest. At the end of the mass Father LeFort expressed his thanks to the priests, the altar boys and the choir for making the occasion a memorable event in his life.

The choir, newly formed a year ago, excelled itself in the rendition of the mass, consisting of some 25 members, its bass, alto, tenor and soprano sections blended admirably in the singing of every portion of the mass in four parts. Miss Frances Cardle, of Bellevue, is organist, and to her goes a great deal of credit for the good work of the choir.

The musical programme for the occasion was as follows: Processional, Ecce Sacerdos, by Rev. J. E. Ronin; The Mass of St. Elizabeth, by P. A. Kauffer; offertory, O Sanctissime; recessional, Holy God we praise Thy Name.

The occasion was a very happy one for Mrs. Jos. Morris, of Bellevue, sister of the newly ordained priest. Mrs. Morris also has contributed a great deal towards the forming of the choir, as she also is an accomplished musician. Messrs. Joe Morris and Gordon Youngberg were ushers for the occasion.

Present at the mass were Mrs. H. LeFort, mother of the new priest, and his sister, Miss Philomena LeFort. Also present were the Sisters of St. Martha, of Blairmore. At the end of

The Canadian Girls in Training group of the United church have had a busy season. On Good Friday they had a sunrise service on Goat Mountain, followed by a breakfast at the church. A few weeks later this was followed by a formal dinner party, at which the girls wore appropriate costumes. This event was climaxized by the playing of games and dancing. It was a gay affair.

In April a rally was held, with the CGIT girls of Coleman as guests. Games were played and supper served in the church basement. After supper, talks were given on camp, and later games were played.

On VE-Day the Blairmore girls had a float in the parade. It was decorated in blue and white and filled with girls in their uniforms. The motto of the float was "Citizens of Tomorrow." The twenty-eight girls sang as the parade wound through the Pass.

On May 18th the groups had a mother-and-daughter get-together. First there was a sing-song, then a business meeting. This was followed by a dedication programme, at which the members, aided by some of the mothers present, affiliated with the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church. Two delightful solos, "The Lord's Prayer" and "June in my garden," were rendered by Mrs. G. Steeves, with Mrs. Boorman accompanying on the piano. Mrs. McElveen's group amused those present with a pantomime, and there was a display of costume dolls. Miss Kay Davidson gave a very fine tribute to Mothers. Garlands of evergreen, crocuses and yellow bells were presented to each mother. After games were played and refreshments served, the pleasant evening was brought to a close with "Taps."

As the Rev. Mr. McElveen was absent Sunday attending conference at Calgary, the evening service at the church was in charge of the CGIT. The senior group took the devotions, while music was rendered by the girls choir.

On Saturday, June 9th, the CGIT group planned a sale and a garage sale. Donations of household furniture, utensils, toys, pictures, books, etc., will be welcome; in fact, anything that is not otherwise needed, including any wearing apparel, hats or shoes.—Irene Mudman, Press Secretary.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Rev. Ervin Feller has returned to the Calgary training camp after a few days' leave spent with his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Feller.

Mrs. Willard Dwyer and small daughter Mary, of Clarendon, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Dwyer and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Smith, of Lundbreck.

Rev. Mr. Irvin held service in the United church here on Sunday morning, the first for several weeks owing to road conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Shainron and daughter Rosella, of North Fork, were visitors to Lethbridge the early part of the week.

Miss Alvin Sackowski, of the Cowley airport, is on a holiday visit to Winnipeg.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin were Sunday visitors with Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernst, at Spring Coulee, where Mrs. Ernst lies critically ill as a result of a fall.

Farmers are courageously working away, taking advantage of every sunny day to get their seedling done. It's been nipp and tuck with them, the season being so rainy. Wheat was sown up to the first of June, with the sowing of oats, barley and flax following as fast as weather conditions would permit.

Rev. Arthur Dwyer, who is stationed at Petawawa, Ontario, is home on two weeks leave, spending the time with his wife and baby son and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dwyer.

Mrs. Maufort has returned to her home in Coleman following a visit with her son Angus and wife, and her niece, Mrs. August Dumont, in the Porcupines district.

The monthly meeting of the local Red Cross was held Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Griffith Parry lent her home for the occasion. Arrangements were made for the market day to be held shortly at Lundbreck.

The remains of the late James Milvain who passed away at his ranch north of Lundbreck were laid to rest in the Livingston cemetery on Monday afternoon.

The mass, Father LeFort gave his blessing to each member of the large congregation.

A Vital Industry

SCARCITY OF LABOUR AND MACHINERY are problems with which all Canadian producers have had to contend since 1939, and it is unlikely that any other industry has been more seriously affected by these difficulties than agriculture. After the outbreak of war, several hundred thousand men and women left Canadian farms to enter the armed services or to work in essential industries. This created a critical shortage of labour, not at a time when it was imperative that production levels be not only maintained, but raised to fulfill the increased demands for food and other food products both at home and abroad. Figures show, however, that the number of men gainfully employed on farms increased from 985,000 in 1943 to 1,025,000 in 1944, and that in the same period the number of women between the ages of 14 and 64 living on farms rose from 765,000 to 780,000.

Marketing No Problem Now With the end of hostilities in Europe there will doubtless be a further easing of both the labor situation and the shortage of farm tools and machinery. Marketing, often a serious problem to farmers in normal times, is one with which Canadian farmers are not likely to have to deal for some time. Agreements now in effect for shipping beef, bacon, cheese, eggs and other foodstuffs to the United Kingdom will be in effect for two years, and the quantities of products required for this purpose are enormous. In 1944 food shipments from Canada to Britain included 80,794,650 bushels of wheat, 695,000,000 pounds of bacon, 5,629,659 barrels of flour, 128,872,900 pounds of cheese, 132,000,000 pounds of beef, and many other items. The British Ministry of Food has asked for as much of these products in 1945 as were shipped in 1944, and in addition, all the surplus beef and pork which can be supplied.

Wartime Needs To Continue As well as making these great quantities of food available for shipment overseas, Canadian farmers have produced enough to meet the needs of civilians here and also to supply the armed forces in the Dominion. There have been other heavy demands on Canada's food supply during wartime, including the packing of Red Cross Prisoner of War boxes and the "virtualizing" of the great fleet of merchant ships departing from our harbors. These ships, often numbering 100 a week, have been supplied with food not only for the outward voyage, but often for the return trip as well, since they were frequently bound for foreign ports where food was scarce and could not be secured as readily as was possible here. Canada has also been shipping food to other United Nations, including Russia, Greece, North Africa and the liberated countries of Europe. These facts all show that farming in Canada has been a war industry of the first rank. They also show that although the fighting in Europe has ended, the Canadian farmer will have to continue for some time to produce on the same scale as he did during the war. It is to be hoped, however, that he will labor under less difficulty in respect to manpower and machinery as the country as a whole gradually reverts to more normal conditions.

Polar Flying Tests

Scientists Will Make Flights Over The North Pole

An R.A.F. expedition has departed for Iceland to begin a series of flights over the Geographic and Magnetic North Poles for scientific purposes, the British air ministry announced.

The party is flying in the Lancaster "Aries" which flew around the world and toured America, Canada and South Africa last autumn.

Plans call for a flight over the land. Other flights will be made to Geographic Pole and return to Iceland. Other flights will be made over the magnetic Pole to Canada and from Canada over the Magnetic Pole to Britain.

The specific objects of the flight will be to study navigation conditions imposed by Polar flying, to examine behaviours of compasses, radar installations and other instruments and to collect magnetic and meteorological data.

The Lancaster carries special equipment and enough supplies to maintain the party for four weeks.

Wing Commander D. C. McKinley, captain of the plane, is in charge of the expedition. McKinley, a pioneer of the Atlantic ferrying service, flew Harry Hopkins on his trip to Russia.

It has been estimated that approximately 80 per cent. of patients who come to a physician's attention because of symptoms of tuberculosis already have dangerously advanced lesions.

Will Give Warning

When Hot Box Develops Electrical Alarm Advises Train Crew

The Pullman-Standard Company says it has developed a method to reduce accidents caused by hot boxes on railroad cars.

Officials of the company described a new electrical alarm system which they said would alert train crews when sale journal boxes or passenger cars become overheated.

Said they: "The device would give warning long before the danger of an accident develops."

Description of the alarm system was made during a preview of plans for new cars which the company says it has in prospect for production after the war.

Their exhibit, "Tomorrow's Train Today," was made public under auspices of the Department of Commerce.

Company spokesmen said that the safety device for journal boxes is already in use in some of its cars and that it will be developed further.

They described it thus:

When journal boxes on individual cars are operating efficiently a yellow signal light remains lit in each car. If a box becomes overheated, a red light is flashed in the affected car, and a warning buzzer sounds, alerting the porter of the car.

At present, they said, circuits are hooked up for individual cars, but eventually the existence of a hot box anywhere on the train will be flashed electrically to the train's cab, warning the engineer to halt until the trouble can be rectified.

Cost Of War

May Take Years To Compute The Loss Of Human Lives And Material

The cost—material and human—of the struggle to eradicate German militarism may take years to compute but some details have been released on the cost of unconditional surrender.

Britain's war damage will be well over $4,000,000,000, Sir John Anderson, Chancellor of the Exchequer, estimated in the House of Commons while from the Russians came a rough estimate of the cost in human lives of their advance.

Matthew Halton, a CBC correspondent, quoted the estimate of a Russian general in Berlin that in saving their country and bringing to triumph in the Reich capital, the Russians had lost better than 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 dead, about half soldiers and half civilians.

Precise figures of the high human cost to the Western Allies have not been given.

One hint of the monetary cost, however, was given in Washington by Henry Morgenthau Jr., United States treasury secretary, who said the cost of the United States part in bringing Germany to her knees and fighting so far against the Japanese had reached $275,703,000,000.

The Royal Navy, strong, though it has been in history, paid heavily for its work in keeping the sea clear. Loosed immediately five battleships, four aircraft carriers, 28 cruisers, 120 destroyers, 60 submarines, 14 armed merchant cruisers, 28 corvettes, 10 frigates, 14 sloops, 51 minesweepers and minelayers and 255 smaller craft.

Huge Flying Boat

Britain's Shetland Is Faster Than United States' Mars

Britain's biggest seaplane, the 80-ton Shetland, is a little hull has emerged from wartime service.

The huge flying boat, designed for world-wide patrol and reconnaissance, was described by Sir John Buchanan of Short Brothers, as faster than the United States air giant, Mars, although "not quite so big." It was disclosed that one Shetland had been completed and successfully flown. A second, still under construction, is being re-designed into a 70-passenger transatlantic airliner—a two-decked cruiser with a promenade and cocktail bar among its features.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—I applied for my new ration book last week and when I received it found no coupons had been removed. Are the clerks in the ration office allowed to remove these coupons?

A.—Yes, the clerks are instructed to remove the coupons which became valid before you applied for the book. You can only deduct coupons from the date of application because it is taken for granted that a person does not require ration coupons until he or she applies for the ration book.

Q.—My landlord has just given me a month's notice to vacate the house I rent from him. He says he needs the quarters for his daughter and son-in-law. Can he do this?

A.—Your landlord has given you the proper notice on the property grounds, but if the notice fails due any time between September 30th and the following April 30th, you are legally permitted to stay where you are until next April 30th.

Q.—Does brown sugar take the same number of coupons as white sugar?

A.—Yes. One regular sugar coupon will purchase one pound of any kind of sugar. Each preserves coupon is good for half a pound.

Q.—I am leaving for my summer cottage early in June and would be welcome to rent my seat clean furnished for four months but I understand I have to give six months' notice to a tenant to vacate, and of course, the notice must be placed in the window position.

A.—If you rent your quarters for a period of five months or less, you enter into what is called a "term tenancy" with your tenant, and regular payment of your quarters without the six months' notice to vacate. You just reclaim your apartment and end the lease for which you have rented. Such a rentals provision is absolutely necessary for people who rent their homes and apartments while they are away for vacation.

Please send your questions or your request for pamphlet "Consumer News" to Dept. C, Box 103, Ottawa, Ontario. You will keep track of your ceiling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

SMILE AWHILE

Pupil: "What did I make in that test?" Teacher: "Mistakes."

An English paper publishes this advertisement:

"For sale: Baker's business; good trade; large oven; present owner been in it for seven years; good reasons for leaving."

Speed Fiend—It's great speed along like this. Don't you feel glad you're alive?

Passenger—Glad isn't the word; I'm amazed!

She hasn't been sick a day in her life.

Gracious! Whatever does she talk about?

Father: "You ought to be ashamed of yourself, not knowing what you learned at school today." Willie Brown always knew."

Bobby: "Yes, but he hasn't got far to go home."

"Excuse me, constable," said the sleek-looking little man, "but I've been waiting here for my wife for over an hour. Would you be good enough to order me to move on?"

Proprietary Roomer: "This window is quite small. It wouldn't be much good in an emergency."

Ladypoint: "There ain't going to be any emergency, mister. My terms are cash in advance."

This is the way to write a thoroughly angry business letter: "Sir: My typist, being a lady cannot take down what I think of you, I, being a gentleman, cannot write it. You, being neither, can guess it."

Foreman—Excuse me, lady, but are you the one that's singing?

Lady—Yes, I was singing. Why?

Foreman—Well, might I ask you not to hang on to that top note so long? The men have knocked off twice already, mistaking it for the dinner whistle.

A cranky old gentleman was seated at the counter in a cafe.

Waitress—We have everything on the menu today, sir.

Cranky Old Man—So I see. How about a clean one.

"Come, come, Joan, surely you know if the world is round or square? . . . Mary, tell her."

"It's crooked, teacher," said Mary, darkly.

CWAC LEAVES WITH 'MA'AM' MOTHER

Cpl. Patricia Claff, C.W.A.C., recently saw her mother, invalided home from service in the Pacific, for the first time in more than a year. Her mother, Lt. Ruth Wallace Claff, U.S. Army Nursing Corps, wears the South Pacific with two stars for service in New Guinea and on Leyte when American troops invaded the island in January, 1945. She became seriously ill there and was ordered home. Following several weeks hospitalization, she was given a leave to her home in Ottawa, where her CWAC mother joined her. On her return to her enlistment, Mrs. Claff was a registered nurse in Weymouth, Mass. Too young to join any of the American women's services, her daughter Cpl. Claff enlisted in the C.W.A.C. in November, 1943. She was a student at Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School in Boston and made her home with her father, Chester Claff, in Randolph, Mass., prior to that. At present employed as a press reader in the Directorate of Trades Training, Cpl. Claff plans to attend business college in Canada after the war.

Jap Balloons Have Drifted Over Prairies

OTTAWA.—Canadians living west of the Great Lakes were warned to watch for unexploded bombs dropped by big unmanned Japanese-launched balloons during "the last several months."

Defence headquarters, in making the announcement, said they were disclosing "sporadic long range balloon attacks," long kept secret for security reasons, in the interest of national safety and taking a chance on letting the enemy know that some of the balloons had reached this continent.

The army warned, however, that if casualties occurred they should not be connected with Japanese balloon attacks.

It was reliably learned from another source that one of the first balloons was discovered by the children of a prairie farmer.

The children had made a fire and were about to throw bombs they had found into the flames when the farmer, a First Great War gunner, arrived. He snatched the explosives from the children, put out the fire and informed police.

Aircraft flying across western Canada and the western United States all carry flying orders to be on the watch for balloons. There have been occasions when R.C.A.F. planes have joined in the search for balloons reported sighted by ground outposts.

The defence department statement indicated the balloons were set adrift in Japan and carried in wind currents at between 80 and 100 miles a day to North America.

"These attacks," said the statement, "are so scattered and aimless that they constitute no military threat. They should not be viewed with alarm."

Carrying a few small bombs, the unmanned balloons float without control, their main purpose believed to be to set brush and forest fires.

The balloons are gray, white or greenish-blue paper, about 33 feet in diameter. They are "known to have landed on American soil and in United States" it was stated, but it was emphasized that the attacks "should not be viewed with alarm."

A LAVISH TRIBUTE

London Paper Praises Contribution Canada Made To Air Supremacy

LONDON.—The influential Daily Telegraph published a lavish tribute to Canada's contribution to air supremacy through the R.C.A.F. and Canadians in the R.A.F.

The writer, F. W. Perfect, said few (British) people realize the stupendous effort by which the Dominion of 12,000,000 people, starting almost from scratch, raised itself in five years to the fourth place in operations which will be adjudged by history to be one of the decisive factors in the defeat of Germany."

The article traced the growth of the R.C.A.F., told the story of the British Commonwealth Air Training plan, noted that Canadians fought on every front, in aerial ace, carrier, decorations and commands; "Canada, therefore, has every reason for pride in the fame of her sons in this war; and Britain has good cause for gratitude."

MUST SHARE JOB

Co-operation Of Peace Loving Nations Needed For World Security

LONDON.—Clement Attlee, deputy prime minister, told the British people they must be prepared to provide armed forces for the world security organization's proposed police force.

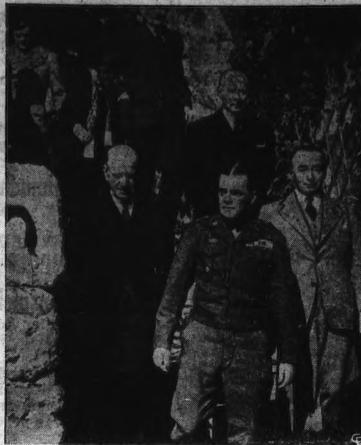

"It is the price which must be paid in order to save the world from another war," he said in a broadcast address on his return from the San Francisco conference.

"We may hope that when the world grows more civilized and stable this burden of armaments may decrease," he added, "but until that time comes we and other nations must bear our share."

The deputy prime minister said he believed "the practical importance of settling the world's (international security) organization will lead to aquiescence" by small nations still objecting to greater strength for big nations on the security council.

HOME UNDAMAGED

WEIMAR, Germany.—The home of Franz Liszt is practically intact although a block-buster fell only a few feet from it during an Allied raid. Some of the composer's manuscripts were removed to a bank safe after the first bombing of Weimar.

FAMOUS FRENCHMEN RELEASED—Edouard Daladier, left, former prime minister of France, as he was liberated by American forces. With him are Maj.-Gen. Anthony B. McAuliffe, Paul Reynaud, Gen. Gamelin and Gen. Weygand.

Canadian Ships Will Serve In Pacific Waters

OTTAWA.—Approximately sixty Canadian warships, excluding replacements, will serve in the Pacific "in operations which will be primarily offensive," Navy Minister Douglas C. Abbott announced here. The Royal Canadian Navy is acquiring from the British admiralty a flotilla of fast new destroyers, and these will form part of the Canadian destroyer group in the Pacific, the navy minister said.

Mr. Abbott also gave details of the size and nature of the navy's Pacific force which will serve with the British fleet and will likely be based in Hong Kong. Captain Harry G. DeWolf, 42, Bedford, N.S., assistant chief of the naval staff:

"One cruiser, H.M.C.S. Uganda, has already seen action with units of the British Pacific fleet."

Mr. Abbott also gave the following details:

1. The Uganda will be joined by a sister ship, the Ontario, already commissioned and taking her trials.

2. The 60-ship fleet also will include the anti-aircraft ship Prince Robert, which saw duty early in the war as an armed merchant cruiser and subsequently served in the Mediterranean, the Bay of Bengal and the Far East.

3. Sixty-eight-foot aircraft carriers are near completion and will be "the largest warships Canada has ever had." They will be manned by crews of 1,300 men including air personnel "which will be drawn as far as possible from the 800 Canadians now serving or training with the Royal Navy Fleet Air Arm." Previously, the Canadian navy had provided sea-crews for two Royal Navy small escort carriers—Nabob and Punker.

4. The destroyer fleet will include the Tribal Haids, Huron and Iroquois; the "V" class ships Sioux and Algonquin; and the tribal class Micmac, first destroyer built in a Canadian yard. A second destroyer was laid down at Halifax but there was no mention of its disposition in the announcement.

5. Rounding out the fleet will be 36 of Canada's newest frigates which are not specifically mentioned by name.

PRICES IN CHINA

Are Now 1,250 Times The Level Before War Started

CHUNGKING.—Despite government efforts to check China's runaway prices, some commodities in Chungking today cost over 10,000 times the pre-war level. The Chungking retail price index April 30 was, by government acknowledgement, 1,250 times the level before war broke out in July, 1937.

AID FOR PEASANTS

MOSCOW.—Foreign Trade Commissioner A. T. Mikoyan said in an interview in Peking that the Red Army, in a move to combat the threat of famine in Berlin and Dresden, had re-established free trade and now permitted German peasants to sell their extra produce at a profit.

MAYOR OF BERLIN

LONDON.—The Moscow radio said that Dr. Arthur Wener, a German architect persecuted by the Gestapo, has been named mayor of Berlin.

EUROPE MUST BE FREE OF TYRANTS—Prime Minister Winston Churchill in an address to the empire was not going to allow "totalitarian or police governments" take the place of German tyranny in liberated Europe. ## STARTS TEST RUNS

Canadian Pacific Railway Is Trying Out Aluminum Box Car

MONTREAL.—Canada's first aluminum sheathed box car has been turned out of Angus Shops here by the Canadian Pacific Railway and started on a series of test runs designed to determine its practicability as a model for replacement of rolling stock used up in war transport's hard service.

It weighs 4,200 pounds less than its steel-sheathed counterpart, a most important saving for the power revision it might make possible on long trains. In this experiment with aluminum the C.P.R. is continuing tests it started as far back as 1925 by equipping a passenger car with an aluminum roof, the life of which has proved comparable to a steel roof by subsequent observation.

The Angus-built pioneer presents a striking appearance with its aluminum sides, doors, roof, running board, brake step and hand brake housing all have been left the original color of the metal, a sharp contrast with the steel ends which have been painted the usual box car red.

UNITED NATIONS SOCIETY

TOPORO.—Name of the League of Nations Society in Canada will be changed to United Nations Society of Canada it was agreed at the annual meeting here. It was decided to throw the weight of the organization behind the peace organization that springs from the San Francisco conference.

AIR CONFERENCE—W. F. English, vice-president, Trans-Canada Air Lines, who will be one of the chief speakers at the Mid-Canada Air Conference being held in Winnipeg this week. The subject of his address will be "Economics of Air Transportation".

French Policy In Lebanon Is Cause Of Crisis

BEYROUTH.—Disclosure that French Senegalese troops fired on Lebanese demonstrators and killed several of them, brought a new middle-eastern political crisis to a head.

A Cairo despatch said clashes in Syria and Lebanon had put the whole middle-east on edge over French policy in the Levant states. A Lebanese legation official said 17 persons were wounded when Senegalese troops dispersed crowds in Damascus.

The shooting climaxed a series of incidents provoked by the arrival of French troops in Syria and Lebanon and brought these rapid developments:

1. Syria and Lebanon resolved jointly to refuse to negotiate with the French on the question of landing additional troops in the two countries. The decision was designed to place the blame on France for any further clashes.

2. The Arab league, powerful union of middle-eastern countries, called on diplomatic representatives of the big powers, including France, itself, to express regret over the situation.

3. U.S. Minister George Wadsworth conferred with Lebanese leaders.

4. The Iraq government contacted the Egyptian government in an effort to co-ordinate their policies in view of new developments.

The joint Syrian-Lebanese refusal to negotiate with France followed the receipt of a memorandum at Bayonne from the French representatives at Bayonne.

Though the memorandum's contents were not disclosed, the Syrian-Lebanese action clearly was a protest against the landing of troops without their consent.

NOW IN CUSTODY

Lord Haw Haw's Boss Captured In Northwest Germany By Canadians

WITH THE FIRST CANADIAN ARMY.—Eduard Dietze, former chief of German anti-American propaganda and Lord Haw Haw's boss, has been captured by Canadian counter-intelligence personnel in northwest Germany.

It is to be hoped that the day will be fittingly observed in this province as well as in all parts of the Dominion. It will afford a great opportunity for our people to show a Christian spirit in helping those who are sick and maimed.

Capture Of A German Ship By Canadians

A BRITISH PORT.—The story of the bloodless capture of a German trawler by the Canadian Bangor-class minesweeper Thunder in the Bay of Biscay a few days before V-E day and how the Canadians boarded the enemy craft and sailed her home under her own steam, was released by the navy.

A Canadian prize crew under Lieut. Art Moore of Digby, N.S., removed the German crew and took command. For two days they sweated to keep the trawler up with an Allied flotilla on the rough, 400-mile haul home.

Cheers and whistles greeted them as they steamed their prize into a British harbor, the fourth enemy ship to be captured and brought to port by the Canadian navy in this war.

The H.M.C.S. Thunder, commanded by Cmdr. Herman Mackay of Halifax and Pictou, N.S., was operating with other Canadian sweepers and the French navy when a low-flying French plane, its pilot waving wildly, drew her attention to the enemy ship.

Thunder, part of the 31st Canadian minesweeping flotilla, closed warily and saw the unidentified craft flying a white flag. Hails in various foreign languages brought no reply and the Canadian ship brought her guns to bear. Suddenly the enemy crew, crowded on the fo'c'sle head, threw up their hands and the captain of the trawler called through the loud hailer that his command was German.

Boats were lowered as Thunder hove to. The Canadian boarding party under Lieut. Moore sent the German crew back to Thunder, took over the captured trawler and later began the voyage home in company of the flotilla.

Boats led away blindfolded prisoners of war. Lieut. Moore disclosed that two bombs had been found aboard the trawler and had been tossed overboard by the Canadians.

The crew that brought the German home included AB. Dean Smith, Prince Albert, Sask.

Capture of the trawler recalled the capture of the German merchantman Weser by the then armed merchant cruiser Prince Robert off the Mexican coast early in the war, and capture of Italian ship Capo Noli in the St. Lawrence by the Canadian "sweeper Bras d'Or shortly after Italy entered the war. Bras d'Or later was lost.

SHUT-INS DAY

First Sunday In June Set Aside For Assisting The Sick

An annual international day has been set aside for the remembrance of the sick and disabled. The first Sunday in June is observed for this purpose. International Shut-in's Day was conceived in the mind of a young Canadian, Ernest Barker. Some years later, with the assistance of a few friends, he formed the Shut-in's Day Association International, to promote the day which falls annually on the first Sunday in June. The object of the association is to encourage remembrance of the sick and disabled.

This organization has received the endorsement of the clergy, the press and the outstanding leaders of our country in all walks of life.

It is to be hoped that the day will be fittingly observed in this province as well as in all parts of the Dominion. It will afford a great opportunity for our people to show a Christian spirit in helping those who are sick and maimed.

UP FOR REVISION

Changed Situations Affect Canada's Mutual Aid Pact With Russia

OTTAWA.—Representatives of Soviet Russia and the Canadian government have opened negotiations to deal with matters arising out of the changed situations affecting mutual aid as a result of the end of the war in Europe, it was learned.

The protocol under which Canadian extended mutual aid to Russia, will end June 30, but it provided for discontinuance with the end of hostilities. Canada's mutual aid pacts with each of the United Nations had the same provision, but the others are at odds with Japan and, accordingly, the agreements still are in effect. The other agreements are with the United Kingdom, Australia, China, New Zealand, India and the French Committee of National Liberation.

Up to March 31, 1944, Canada depended on goods given to Russia $23,262.

EMPIRE PRISONERS

MONTRAL.—Aircraft of the Royal Air Force bomber and transport commands have so far brought back to England nearly 95,000 British and empire prisoners of war liberated in Europe. It was officially revealed.

NOTHING UNWORTHY

VE-Day is behind us. The songs of thanksgiving and the voices of our leaders still ring in our ears. What a pattern for the future in the stirring words of His Majesty the King: "Let us take up work again; resolved as a people to do nothing unworthy of those who died for us and to make the world such a place as they would have desired for their children and for ours."

"Do nothing unworthy . . ." As the elections draw near, we must feel the urgency of responding wholly to such challenging words. This election especially gives us all a chance to serve Canada. Our country must emerge from the campaign stronger and more united, better able to succeed in our task ahead.

This is no time for high thinking and low living. If ever a new element were needed in Canadian politics, it is now. That new element will come by chance, but by change—when the promises of the candidates and the demands of the voters are based on the best interests of the nation rather than on selfish, local and personal interests; when we ourselves practice in our home and at our work those same principles which we expect of our candidates; when we accept individual responsibility for the past and for the future, and pledge our best thinking and living in support of the Canada we all cherish.

This will give us all a stake in the country's future. It will inspire all races and sections to pull together for a common purpose greater than our common differences. Then we shall be worthy of those who died for us, and echo the closing words of His Majesty: "Let us thank Him for His mercies, and in this hour of victory commit ourselves and our next task to the guidance of the same strong hand."

The King Manpower Policy —

"The Greatest Hoax ever perpetrated on a Nation."

"It is a national disgrace and a blight upon the good name of Canadian citizenship. To give political considerations priority over the nation's interest is intolerable and unforgivable."

John Bracken

Dominion-wide disunity is today the gravest danger facing Canada. The political abasement of the King Government's Manpower Policy reaped in wartime the seeds it sowed in peacetime.

"King or Chaos" of the 1940 election campaign has been King AND Chaos ever since. National unity, to which the King Government has paid only lip-service, was sold for political advantage in time of gravest national emergency.

THE PRICE CANADA HAS PAID for the unequal burdens of the King Manpower Policy is beyond measure. Army statistics tell the story. Tragically, the casualty lists bear mute witness to it.

THE PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE PARTY HAS CONSISTENTLY CONDEMNED THE INJUSTICE OF A

PURELY POLITICAL MANPOWER POLICY. We do not hesitate therefore to describe the King Manpower Policy, and all the furtive political manipulations which characterized the administration of that policy, as a gross miscarriage of social, political and economic justice. As our forthright, progressive leader has said, it was—and is—"the greatest hoax ever perpetrated on a nation."

NATIONAL UNITY AND WELFARE MUST COME BEFORE NARROW POLITICAL ADVANTAGE. Divide-and-rule policies have no place in framing the basis for peace-time government. Only a party that will recognize equality of opportunity for all in time of peace as well as equality of service and sacrifice in time of war can solve the problem of national unity with the confidence of all Canadians.

CLAYTON ROSE HIGH WINNER

A former pupil of Mrs. Roland Pinkney, of Blairstmore, Clayton Rose, 17, now of Aurora, Ontario, is one of the seven winners in the annual junior scholarship competition of the Canadian Performing Rights Society.

Clayton was born at Radisson, Sask., where his father had his first medical practice, later moving to Laredo, and then to Simpson, 100 miles north of Regina. It was there that Clayton began to study music at the age of 4½. His father and mother, both musical, saw their son used to sit down at the piano and try to work out melodies even before he tried to take piano lessons. He wrote his first composition when he was 8 years old.

In 1940 he won the Moser Cup in the Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival for the highest marks in piano. In 1941 he won the Toronto Conservatory of Music silver medal for the highest marks in Grade 8 piano in Alberta.

W. H. Moser was his teacher most of the time.

Security with Freedom!

Your Vote on June 11th can bring lasting security to your work, your home, your family!

Security for your WORK

Here are some of the definite, practical steps taken by the Liberal Government to give security to home and family by assuring well-paid post-war jobs for everyone.

For Veterans — The most generous plan of any United Nation to get returned men started in the type of work each of them chooses. The Liberal Government is determined that every man and woman coming home to Canada shall return to the land of greatest opportunity in the world.

For Workers — About a third of all Canadians depend on exports for their livelihood. Liberal plans provide for increasing our exports 60% over those of 1939.

For Farmers — Acting on the belief that all Canadians prosper when farmers do, the Liberal Government has arranged that they can improve their farms and equipment under a new farm security plan. It will put a floor under the prices of farm and timber products.

To stimulate employment for all, the Liberal Government has created a special Department of Reconstruction which is now in operation and which will co-ordinate private and public enterprise.

Security for your HOME

The Liberals believe that the home is the heart of the nation. They aim to give Canadians every possible facility to build and furnish your home! With Government assistance you can build a home in the country, town or city. This will make jobs for the building trades, and those who manufacture building supplies—and those who manufacture household equipment and furniture.

New Homes for Canadians — The Liberal Government's new $100,000,000 National Housing Act, now on the statute books, enables hundreds of thousands of Canadians to get money at low interest and on long, generous terms to build, renovate or enlarge their own homes. Note that Germany is defeated, plans are already in operation for at least 50,000 dwellings.

Other practical, workable measures for the security of your home are the Liberal Government's laws for Unemployment Insurance and liberal Old Age Pensions.

The Liberals believe in doing what can be done, as soon as it can be done. If returned to power on June 11th, they will carry on and expand the sound, constructive work already started.

Security for your FAMILY

Family Allowances — Starting in July, parents who benefit least from income tax exemptions will receive Family Allowance cheques every month to help them get better food, clothing, shelter and education for their children so they can grow into strong, vigorous Canadian citizens. These cheques will amount to between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000 a year. As direct spending power, this will do much to help in achieving the Liberals' objective of full employment.

Health — A National Health Plan will ensure that everybody shall be taken care of while they are sick and the best measures medical science can devise shall be employed to prevent disease.

Despite the efforts of Drew, Bruce, Bracken and other reactionaries, the Liberals are determined that human interests, the needs of men, shall be placed before "business as usual".

The Liberals have faith in Canada, a united country, one in its ability to continue to build, with your support, a more abundant life and greater opportunities for Canadians.

Help build this new order of security with freedom. Protect the social gains already made. Vote for your Liberal candidate on June 11th.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF BLAIRMORE

Michel, BC, May 29/45.

Dear Citizens:
The community of Michel and Natal have finally realized how far behind other towns they are in regards to sport facilities and post-war plans for the welfare of the men and women in all branches of the services, and so, with this thought in mind, three very large public meetings have been held from which a plan for the betterment of the community has been drawn up.

The first step in this plan is the sponsoring of a Dominion Day Celebration, starting with a carnival on June 30th and ending July 2nd. A Queen campaign is also under way at the present time, with the winner to be crowned on July 2nd, after a huge parade. Baseball tournaments for senior and junior men; softball competitions for men, women and juniors; mixed track and field competitions for all ages, is scheduled, and three huge dances are to be held, starting Saturday, June 30th, and ending July 2nd.

The proceeds from these events are to be used in starting a building fund for a community swimming pool and a small portion set aside for the running of community sports.

We realize that our dates for this celebration coincide with those of your own annual Dominion Day celebration and we apologize for this confliction, but our citizens have expressed their opinions that we (sport teams of Michel-Natal) have always assisted other towns throughout the district in making their events a success and helping their organizations raise money for community improvements, so that we think it is time to try and better our own sport clubs and community plans.

Hoping that this letter will clear up any misunderstanding from the confliction of these celebrations, and that our humble apology is accepted by the community of Blairmore.

I am, yours truly,
John Thompson, Chairman,
Michel-Natal Dominion Day Sport
Association.

John Bracken says -

"It is not foreordained that farmers shall work for less pay than anybody else; or have their children receive only one-quarter the chance of a secondary education, or one-tenth the chance of a university education that other children get; or see their wives forced into lives of toil, often 12 but sometimes 14 hours a day — Sundays and holidays included . . . The trouble is that no one with the necessary authority has determined to correct the basic economic ills of Agriculture."

BRACKEN WILL ABOLISH INJUSTICE TO FARMERS

John Bracken, the farmer, is not content, merely to point out the injustices of which he, and every other farmer, is only too well aware. He is determined to abolish these economic ills, these injustices, immediately and permanently. John Bracken guarantees definite PROTECTION FOR FARMERS against income collapse and wide extremes of income fluctuation:

- The Farmer shall be guaranteed a just and proportionate share of the nation's income.
- This will be done by a system of fair prices to be announced before the season of production. The farmer will then carry on with the assurance that he will receive a just share of the national income. He will thus have money to buy farm implements and provide for comforts. His own living standard will be permanently raised and he will be able to contribute to community welfare.

The Truth Will Prevail

Bible Society Has Distributed Millions Of Copies Of The Scriptures

From the British and Foreign Bible Society report 1942-43 (the last issued on account of war) the following figures were taken:

"Since its foundation in 1804 the Bible Society has issued more than $32,344,000 copies of the Scriptures. Of these about 129,284,000 have been in English."

Interesting and revealing is the fact that the work of the B. & F.B.S. is to encourage the wider circulation of the Holy Scriptures "without note or comment".

Figures from the American Bible Society for 1944 show 12,403,541 copies of the Scriptures distributed—a record for this 128-year-old organization.

To the ordinary reader it would seem that shortly—at this rate—everyone in the world would know, first hand, the Scriptures as we in the free countries are privileged to read them.

There are, however, hundreds of languages and dialects for which translations have not yet reached writing grade. Thus destruction of the Truth both wanton and accidental and so the work goes on, steadily, surely, as the Master would wish.

Faithful followers provide funds that all may have the privilege without cost or any price of drinking from the fountains of truth and being renewed and upheld by the living Christ.

Wheat Carry-Over

May Not Be Less Than Three Hundred Million Bushels

The concentration of the greater part of the world's wheat supplies in North America and the heavy demands which are now being made upon this stockpile have served to focus attention on the supply position of Canada and the United States, states the Monthly Review of the Wheat Situation. With the three countries of the crop-year remaining in Canada, and despite the remaining effort which is made to move the largest possible amount of wheat into export position, it would appear probable that the carry-over at July 31 will not be less than 300 million bushels.

The minimum carry-over likely in the United States at June 30 has been estimated at 350 million bushels.

This prospective combined carry-over in the two countries of 650 million bushels, while only moderately below the 671 million bushels carried over in 1944, is still the lowest mid-season stock figure since 1940.

Strange Gift

Story Of A Trophy That Was Presented To Nelson

A newspaper report that the late Sir Hickman Bacon, premier baronet and eccentric millionaire, was found to have stored his coffin at Thonock Hall, Gainsborough, for many years recalls the curious story of a gift to Nelson.

After the Battle of the Nile, when the French flagship L'Orient was destroyed in circumstances best known by the poem about the boy on the burning deck, some of her timbers were recovered as souvenirs. Captain Hallowell, in command of H.M.S. Swallow, had a coffin fashioned from her mizzenmast and sent it to Nelson with an explanatory letter. It was, he said, his earnest wish that "when you have finished with your military career in this world you may be buried in one of your trophies."

Nelson was by no means upset at receiving such a strange present and gave orders for the coffin to be kept in his cabin. Later it was removed to London and stored with other goods by an upholsterer named James Dods, in Brewer street. It remained there until Trafalgar ended Nelson's career and was then used for its purpose, enclosing his remains in the crypt of St. Paul's Cathedral.—Manchester Guardian.

Not All Young

Wing Commander Won D.F.C. When He Was Sixty-Eight

An airman too old at 40? Not in all. Not at 50, either.

Acting Squadron Leader Charles Sherriff of the R.A.F. has been given the D.F.C. for "courageously attacking tanks" at the age of 41.

Sherriff is a radio operator and air gunner. And not the oldest of them.

Squadron Leader W. S. Fielding, the Manxman's former commander, said in a BBC broadcast.

Fielding is the fastest ship in the Royal Navy. Airship Fielding is the first to disclose the vessel as the French cruiser Leopard and within 24 hours. The effect was so realistic it fooled passing German planes and a real French cruiser which sailed past.

Mined Enemy Harbor

British Light Cruiser Carried Out Daring Operation In 1941

The saga of the British light cruiser Manxman, which, in disguise, steamed boldly into an enemy harbor, mined it, and safely withdrew, has been disclosed.

The daring operation was performed "right under the noses of the Germans and Italians" in the harbor of Leghorn, Italy, in 1941, and resulted in the sinking of "important Italian ships." Rear Admiral R. K. Dickson, the Manxman's former commander, said in a BBC broadcast.

OYSTERS ON TREES

In Puerto Rico oysters grow on trees. If you order oysters on the half shell you will find the small shells are warped and twisted, their backs covered with bark, and concave from clinging to the submerged limb or root on which they grew.

It is estimated that between 40 and 50 per cent. of the professional Japanese soldiers have studied English and that 25 per cent. speak it efficiently.

HEALTH LEAGUE OF CANADA presents VITAL INTEREST

ROBLOFLAVIN CONTENT OF MILK

Milk is an important source of riboflavin, a vitamin of the B group which is a diet necessity if the body cells are to be expected to do their normal work. Its lack can cause, among other things, sore eyes and defects in vision. Also, sores at the corners of the mouth and on the nose often denote riboflavin deficiency.

Reports on the quantity of riboflavin in milk vary according to a number of biological assays, but consumers can rest assured that pasteurization does not destroy the riboflavin content to any appreciable extent.

Actual riboflavin content of milk is said to be controlled by the breed of cow and by seasonal variations. It is said to be higher in summer than in winter; highest in Jersey cows, medium in Holsteins, and lowest in Guernseys and Ayrshires.

However, Arthur D. Holmes of the Agricultural Experimental Station, Massachusetts State College, Amherst, has clarified the situation concerning the effect of pasteurization on milk's riboflavin content.

He pooled the milk from 70 cows, all healthy, registered animals which were housed under similar conditions and given identical food rations for some time previous and during the experimental procedure.

Two pasteurization methods—the holding and the flash—were used. In the holding method where the milk was kept at a temperature of 144 deg. F. for average periods of 33 minutes, average loss of riboflavin approximated only two per cent.

In the flash method—where the milk was held at 161 deg. F. for 15 seconds—there was no loss of riboflavin content.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

VANGIE RETURNS

— By —
SALLY RANDOLPH

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The night Dave Thorne's mother surprised him packing his bag to run off with Mary Mills, she had a heart attack and never left her bed after that. Dave didn't get married, or even have a girl friend, because it was his duty to stay with his mother, but most everybody felt that old Mrs. Thorne held the cruellest kind of tyranny over two young lives. And Mary and Dave just made for each other.

It went on like that for ten years. Dave growing out of his boyishness into solid, handsome masculinity. His store and his farm prospered. And more than one summer girl did her best to land him.

But they didn't compare with Mary, warm and serene, and just this side of being out and out beautiful. The years were kind to her russet hair, and some fund of inner strength kept her from having the pinched look that comes so often to the faces of women who wait. And the unique dignity of not talking—ever—about Dave's mother and what she'd done to them.

And then at last Mrs. Thorne died one night, and the town drew a sigh of relief. Now Mary and Dave would be married and begin the life together they should have had long ago.

But they reckoned without the return of Evangeline Clayton, who'd been a slim, brown-haired youngster when she captured a wealthy summer chap from the Lake Forest colony. She was freshly divorced, wished to be called Eve, and her hair was the color of ripe wheat.

"Why, Vangie, your hair! It's dyed."

"Of course," she agreed airily. "Isn't it pretty?"

She proclaimed with equal frankness that she'd some home to lick her wounds.

When she met Dave on the post office steps her second day she looked up at him and said, "Wham! I'd forgotten there were men like you."

"Maybe there aren't," he said with his slow winning smile. "You look different, Vangie. Your hair—"

"If you don't like it, I'll change it."

"No. It's quite—quite lovely."

She was cute and gay and pert when she wasn't being kitten soft. But she was ruthless as they come. She just took Dave in tow and he loved it—a salute, sort of, to his new freedom. The town looked onaghast.

Except Mary. After a week she closed the house where she and her aunt lived and carried on a humongous business with city dealers and summer folks—just tucked a note on the door, "Back August 1st."

Dave drove them over to Prieberg to catch the train—they had no time—and he came back sheepish and quiet. But Vangie fixed that. She planned picnics and moonlight swims and the rest of the crowd would arrange parties in return.

But Vangie got too sure of herself. The first time she accepted an invitation for Dave without asking him he went. The second time he didn't and the town knew he spent the evening taking inventory—a superfluous gesture in midsummer.

Before the week was out, Vangie was running in there for cigarettes or fizz water trying to get back on the old footing. "Look, Vangie," he finally told her straight out, "one managing woman in a man's life teaches him a lesson."

"Darling," she said, "if there was anybody else I'd be happy to play with, but I'm saving myself for your doorstep! We've had such fun and we can have a lot more!"

But Dave was wary—and remorseful.

Mary came back on a Sunday afternoon. There were three of them in a spanking new blue convertible—Mary's aunt and a city fellow at the wheel with a good pleasant face and nice manners. Not cocky like some.

They bought gas and stopped for supper at the Rocking Chair House. They laughed a lot and Mary looked happy.

Later that evening Dave drove by Mary's place on the edge of town but the car was still there so he went back home.

Just as regular as milking time, that blue car showed up and Mary all glowing and prettier than she had been in years, ran out to meet the fellow. They'd go for a drive and come back before dark. Dave's smile lost its spirit as it never had during all those years of waiting. And when Vangie tried to edge in again he'd brush her off faster than a deer fly.

The fourth evening just before time for the car to show up, Dave sent Tunney, the good-natured dimwit up on his bike with a note.

Mary didn't send an answer but remained Summer careful in the message that she'd come down to the store in the morning. The blue car came and went, and came back again pretty late that night.

And the next morning, Mary who'd never driven before in her life to any person's knowledge, parked the blue car neatly in front of Dave's store.

There's still conjecture about just why Mary bought that car—but she schemed the whole thing out to bring Dave around or whether as she says, "I was so surely wouldn't buy a car without learning how to drive it, would you?"

Anyhow it's mighty handy for her. She runs up with the baby to see her aunt most every afternoon. Good driver, she is, too.

BROWN-EYED SUSANS

1/4 cup seeded raisins
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup sifted flour flakes
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup sugar through food chopper
Cook raisins, sugar, water and lemon juice over low heat until thick. Cool.

Blend shortening and sugar until crumbly. Crush cereal into fine crumbs. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together; mix with crumbly sugar mixture. Add oil, milk and egg. Stir in shortening mixture and add to cereal mixture. Roll out on floured board. Cut half with floured 2 1/4-inch cookie cutter and half with 2 1/2-inch round cookie cutter. Put almond filling on each plain round top with round hole in centre; press edges together with fingers of both hands. Place on greased cookie sheet in moderately hot oven (425 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 2 1/2 dozen 3-inch cookies.

The Yellow Goldrush

Ten Thousand Men Now In The Gold Camp

According to Mr. Geo. F. Gordon, an Edmonton businessman and mining enthusiast, when down East recently in search of diamond drill equipment, there will be a "goldrush" in the Yellowknife district like the days of the Klondike.

At the time of writing we know that airplane passages are being arranged for some 20 leading American and Canadian shareholders to visit mine properties early in June.

A returned visitor tells us that there are at least 10,000 men now in the Gold Camp and now that the snow has disappeared the miners are erecting camps and setting up drifts through shortage of lumber and other materials may force postponement of some plans.

However activity this summer will be on an unprecedented pace. Claims staked number about 35,000 and about 100 have been formed with about 50 financed at least for exploration and drilling.

Mr. Geo. Daywood, a veteran prospector who was with Mr. Gordon in the East, said R.C.M.P. are stationed at strategic points of entry to make sure no persons are allowed into the district unless capable of looking after themselves.

Mr. Gordon feels that if more men are found there is good reason why a railroad should be built into the territory.

He says that steps are being taken to establish an assay plant and test mill, likely at Yellowknife, which will thus give prospectors quick reports on their findings. At present samples have to be sent all the way to Ottawa for assay.

GARDEN NOTES

Routine Care

If the garden is thoroughly cultivated in the early spring, weeds grow under and hold humus of soil pulverized. It will only need a few light cultivations during the remainder of the season to keep it growing and weeding itself. This light growing-over is best done when the ground is soft after a rain.

Just as regular as milking time, that blue car showed up and Mary all glowing and prettier than she had been in years, ran out to meet the fellow. They'd go for a drive and come back before dark. Dave's smile lost its spirit as it never had during all those years of waiting. And when Vangie tried to edge in again he'd brush her off faster than a deer fly.

An Amazing Feat

Underground in Netherlands Had Country-Wide Secret Telephone Service

One of the most amazing feats of the Netherlands underground movement that may be revealed today is the establishment of a country-wide secret telephone network linking up even small villages with the central posts.

The work was done right under the noses of the Germans.

The system was automatic and every one of the larger towns had its own central exchange.

When the Germans blew up the bridges across the IJssel river, thus cutting the secret telephone line, underground workers strung a new line, rowing across in a small boat at night.

The Amsterdam engineer responsible for this feat told me:

"We even tapped the German telephone lines. For instance, I heard the conversation between Hitler and the German chief of police in Holland, Walther Rauter, Sept. 7 when Rauter informed the Fuehrer that Brussels had been taken by the Allies."

The men who maintained this secret telephone network also tapped German teleprinter lines, thus gaining valuable information which was passed on to the Allied forces by means of the Dutch underground telephone lines.

Combat Sawfly

Co-operation Of Farmers Needed To Fight This Insect Pest

Campaign against the wheat stem sawfly, which caused a loss to Saskatchewan farmers of $18,000,000 in 1943, is being carried vigorously in districts of heavy infestation, according to a statement by S. H. Vigor, provincial field crop commissioner. Plans for the drive against this crop pest were formulated last fall, and a series of meetings have been held in the areas of the province where the sawfly menace is the worst. Provincial and federal agricultural experts cooperated in explaining to farmers the best methods for combatting this insect pest. Effectiveness of the campaign will depend largely on the efforts put forth by the farmers themselves as best results are attained if the problem is attacked on a community basis.

"Crop strips, early seeding of coarse grains such as oats and barley, with wheat sown later, is the system prescribed by the department as the sawfly is less susceptible to attack of any kind than is the neglected sort.

Top flowers and vegetables like dandelions, hollyhocks, tomatoes etc. should be staked and tied loosely to these stakes to prevent wind and other storm damage. Clipping sweet corn and other annuals and other vegetables should be supported by brush-wire or strings.

To encourage continuous flowering, blooms should be picked frequently. Sweet corn, parsnips, nasturtiums, etc. removed when fading in the case of flowers not ordinarily used for cutting purposes.

To build up either light or heavy soil is an excellent thing to do in plow under what farmers call "green manure". This is simply vegetable growth added to the soil.

Topsoil, earth, grass, manure, etc. should be applied to the soil as soon as possible after a rain. This is cultivated at ten-day intervals each spring up to about the time of July 1, then sown with a cover crop of oats, rye, vetch, etc.

Later when this crop is up 10 or 12 inches it is plowed or spaded under as green manure. Weeds, grass clippings, manure, etc., should be added and all allowed to decompose together. This known as a compost heap and the soil thus made is excellent for flower beds and vegetable plots.

OLD OPINION DISCOUNTED

The old opinion that eating between meals is harmful has lost ground steadily. Efficiency experts in war plants have found that snacks during rest periods are beneficial to the general well-being of their employees.

Energy food at mid-morning and mid-afternoon enables the workers to maintain a high production level.

HAS NINE MOONS

The plant Jupiter has nine moons. Four of these satellites are so large that they have been seen with the naked eye. Exceptional eyesight is necessary for such afeat, however.

BLYTHE SPIRIT

The area around Victoria, B.C. is the only part of America where the skylark is found. The European songster, famous in the odes by Shelley, was introduced there some years ago and appears to be firmly established. In appearance it is much like the horned Lark, except that it lacks the little tufts and has a striped breastband.

Overhanging eaves and deep porches are light thieves as far as the rooms they adjoin are concerned. Such shadowing can be cut to a minimum by painting the under sides of the eaves or the ceiling of the porch a light color.

DISCONTINUANCE OF COMPULSORY EMPLOY- MENT TRANSFER ORDERS

Further transfers of men under the seven compulsory employment orders of 1943 will not be made by the National Selective Service, it is announced by the minister of labor.

The seven orders, issued between May 4 and November 15 of 1943, named lengthy list of less essential industries and occupations, and provided that all male workers from 16 to 38 years of age engaged in any of these employments would become liable for transfer to more essential employment. To April 15th of this year over 100,000 men were registered as initially coming under these orders and 18,488 had actually been required to change jobs. Undoubtedly, in addition, a large number of those in the less essential industries, who had not moved into war jobs prior to the first of the compulsory orders, did so after the series started to become effective.

Men already moved under the orders are not affected by the change now being made; they may be required to continue in their jobs, as will also men directed to employment at a time when they were not of job when directed to the coal mining industry. Moreover, the authority of selective service to direct men to farm work, which became effective last March, and the authority to direct men who are not employed to essential jobs will remain in force and be utilized as circumstances may require.

"The compulsory employment transfer orders," Hon Mr. Mitchell stated, "served a very useful purpose at a time when Canada's total war effort required the help of every last man to be found. The fact that fairly few of the men who were required to transfer exercised their right of appeal against the directive indicates that the administration of these orders is well accepted. However, lifting of these orders now seems safe, and is in line with the government's policy of removing wartime restrictions once they have served their purpose."

To clear up some confusion with respect to youthful servicemen, the chief electoral officer at Ottawa has reaffirmed that honorably discharged volunteer servicemen under 21 years of age may vote in the Dominion election on June 11th. They are required to go to the nearest navy, army or air force election officer with proof of at least six months service and cast their ballots. Navy veterans would vote at the nearest navy bureau, and other veterans with their own services.

STANLEY WYATT, Rancher

Progressive - Conservative Candidate

Macleod Riding

He resigned from the Claresholm Municipal Hospital Board when he became a political candidate.

He is a director of the Western Stock Growers Association, and a director of the Community Auction Sales, a co-operative cattle selling agency in Southern Alberta. He is also a member of the Alberta Wheat Pool and of the United Farmers of Alberta.

A lover of the out-of-doors, he hunts and fishes. Deer and mountain sheep are among his trophies at his log cabin ranch house. On his ranch he also has a trout pool. He admits he is a great lover of curling.

He takes an active part in all community activities.

Interested in the improvement of western farm homes, he believes farmers should have bathrooms, electrical appliances, mechanical refrigerators, etc., and favors government assistance to do this. He has already discussed his proposals for rural home improvement with Mr. Bracken.

He also advocates: (a) Long term Bacon Contracts with Great Britain; (b) Opening of the Cattle Market to Chicago and St. Paul; (c) Sending Alberta Coal to the western States, ton for ton in exchange for Pennsylvania coal coming into Ontario; (d) Simplification of the Income Tax Laws; (e) Encouragement for the Returned Men to settle on Good Farms . . . and other policies for which he has learned the need from his long experience in the West.
